

The Jagiellonian University REACTIK Resource Centre

The Jagiellonian University Resource Centre is part of the activities within the REACTIK Jean Monnet Network. It is designed to help academic staff, students and other stakeholders in their research on topics related to Cultural Diplomacy. It consists of the collection of various publications, papers, documents and other materials that may be useful in investigating European Cultural Diplomacy. The Resource Centre is kindly hosted by the Post-graduate Study Programme on Cultural Diplomacy run by the Institute of European Studies.

REACTIK is a Jean Monnet Network aimed to broaden the field of European integration studies by incorporating the domain of European Cultural Diplomacy (ECD) and European Culture Policy (ECP) in the research and activities of European Study Centers and Academies for Art and Design. The project develops an inter-regional, collaborative academic space to enhance the study of ECD and ECP.

Apart from the Jagiellonian University, the REACTIK Consortium consists of:

Bezalel Academy of Arts and Design, Project coordinator, (Jerusalem)

Copenhagen University (Denmark)

Waseda University (Tokyo, Japan)

Ben-Gurion University of the Negev (Israel)

UC University of Canterbury (New Zealand)

Jawaharlal Nehru University (New Delhi).

More information on the project can be found here:

<https://reactik.eu/>.