Europaeum Graduate Workshop

Open Europe ? Closed Europe ?

Co-hosted with the Institute for European Studies, Jagiellonian University, Krakow

LAST CALL for applicants for our Graduate Workshop in our focus on the continuing Migration crisis in Europe, entitled Open Europe ? Closed Europe ? looking behind and beyond current EU and national policy flip-flops - the move to the right of the former East Central European region and the lack of the obstacles to a coherent EU strategy. It is being co-hosted with the Institute for European Studies at the Jagiellonian University in Krakow, from April 14th - 16th (please see event poster here) There are a few remaining places which will be chosen by our panel in the coming week. Join us with experts from academe, from rights organisations, from politics and the law, to examine the divergent approaches that are emerging across Europe - from the German welcome, continuing despite the Cologne New Year events, and the approach from Hungary, Scandinavian countries and the UK to offer restricted, narrow, paltry welcomes. Migration and mobility remain top of Europe's agenda - raising questions of identity, cultural reconfiguration, border controls, legal requirements and European values. (see draft programme here)

All costs covered - apart from travel. Please write at once with interest and then we a CV (max. 2 pages), one or two letters of recommendation, a letter of motivation. We now have our quota of papers but if you are very keen please do send a brief 2-paragraph synopsis of your proposal. As with all Europaeum activities it will be highly participatory, lively and engaging.

Speakers to include: Professor Ryszard Legutko MEP, Dr Rafal Trzaskowski MP, Professor Zdzislaw Mach (Krakow) and Dr Paul Flather (Oxford). (more to be announced)

14th - 16th April, 2016

The graduate workshop is open to all Europaeum graduates. To apply, please contact the Europaeum Office with a letter of intent, demonstrating your interest in the event, a short CV (max. 2 pages), and a support letter from your supervising Professor. Please pass this on to students and colleagues who might be interested.

Jagiellonian University, Krakow

Please note that all local costs will be covered through the Europaeum. But graduates are expected to cover their own travel costs.

Deadline for applications:

4th April 2015,

Please apply as soon as possible!
